On a prominent site in Sydney sits an extensive family residence that commands an enviable 270-degree view over the harbour.

A magnificent family residence with a stunning 270-degree view of Sydney Harbour is located on a prominent site in the city.

Originally designed by renowned architect John R Brogan in the 1950s, the current structure is comprised of three parts and reflects elements of the Arts and Crafts movement. However, over the years, multiple additions have left the building without a clear architectural identity.

The proposed new design calls for the demolition of the central portion of the property and the construction of a more functional building that seamlessly connects the two wings. This new structure will feature a grand interpretation of the original architectural details

A sophisticated expression of French elegance, where classic design principles are combined with modern luxuries to create a timeless residence.

Project Status : Under construction
Project Year : 2024
Site Area : 850 sqm
Location : Killara, Sydney

The Killara House project embraces the timeless elegance of French classical design, blending sophisticated architectural elements with refined interiors to create a luxurious yet warm family home. Inspired by the grandeur and understated charm of French manor houses, the design focuses on proportion, symmetry, and a harmonious connection between the indoor and outdoor spaces.

The epitome of modern luxury, with a focus on wellness and sustainability.

This high-end house located in Northbridge, Sydney is a masterpiece of modern architectural style blended with a zen interior design.

The interior of the house is finished with a combination of timber and other natural materials, creating a warm and inviting atmosphere. The use of natural materials brings a sense of serenity and balance to the home, while the clean lines and modern finishes give it a sophisticated edge.

The spacious layout of the house is designed with an emphasis on flow and functionality, with zones for every purpose. Large windows and high ceilings allow an abundance of natural light to flood the interior, creating an open and airy feel.

The outdoor living areas of this home are just as impressive as the indoor spaces, with a large terrace and a grassy garden perfect for entertaining or simply relaxing and enjoying the serene surroundings. The use of timber and other natural materials continues outside, creating a seamless connection between the indoor and outdoor spaces.

A Modern Minimalist Home Defined by Luxury Materials and Timeless Design

The design concept revolves around the harmonious balance of clean lines, functional spaces, and understated luxury. Carefully curated, high-end materials such as marble, natural wood, and matte finishes are incorporated throughout, contributing to a refined and elegant ambiance.

A neutral color palette of soft greys, whites, and beiges weaves continuity across each room, establishing a serene and cohesive atmosphere. The subtle integration of black hardware and natural stone accents adds sophistication and depth, enhancing the minimalist aesthetic while maintaining an air of quiet opulence. Through this thoughtful design approach, the project achieves a timeless elegance, blending modern functionality with luxury finishes for a home that exudes both comfort and style.

Designing spaces that inspire creativity, productivity, and comfort

Project Status : Completed
Project Year : 2017
Location : Chatswood, Sydney

The office project in Chatswood, Sydney is a compact yet functional space, designed with a modern aesthetic in mind. The interior features a chic black and timber color palette, creating a warm and inviting atmosphere that is both professional and stylish. The use of a stylish narrow reed glass partition with a black metal frame serves to separate the different areas of the office while still allowing natural light to flow through the space, creating a bright and airy feel. Despite its small size, the office is designed with functionality in mind, providing everything a modern worker needs in a compact and efficient layout.

A testament to how color and texture can transform a space into something truly beautiful

The office design project in North Sydney embodies a sleek, modern aesthetic that aligns seamlessly with the vibrant energy of this thriving business hub. Thoughtfully crafted to reflect the dynamic atmosphere of the area, the space combines functionality with contemporary flair. The interior is defined by a bold black and gold color palette, which exudes sophistication and elegance. This striking contrast not only enhances the overall visual appeal but also creates a polished, upscale environment that is both inviting and inspiring. High-end finishes, clean lines, and carefully selected furnishings further elevate the design, making it a perfect fit for a modern professional workspace.
